In the event that bank account information must be used to complete payment transactions, the information may only be retained until the transactions are completed. All confidential information must then be destroyed by shredding.

In the event that W-9s must be issued, the records containing confidential information must be destroyed by shredding at the end of the retention period.

In addition to the above, electronic files critical to NASS operation are to be routinely backed-up and back-ups are to be stored in a safe location. Critical electronic files include:
